

Myrtho Gardiner, LCSW-R, MPhil,
Director of the Exodus Center for Trauma Innovation

Myrtho Gardiner is a dynamic, client-centered, community orientated clinical social worker. He is the Director of the Exodus Center for Trauma Innovation (ECTI), a transformative hub that offers free, extensive, evidence-based clinical and non-clinical therapies tailored to communities of color, young people, members of the LGBTQIA community, justice impacted people and immigrants. Myrtho has 16 years of experience as a clinical social worker, and five years of experience in leadership and administration. He is a PhD Candidate at the City University of New York School of Social Welfare, where he is studying the experiences of trauma and healing for formerly incarcerated individuals. Myrtho also has a private practice in psychotherapy. He is an adjunct lecturer at NYU Silver School of Social Work, and has taught at Columbia School of Social Work, and the Silberman School of School Work at Hunter College.